14. JUSTIFICATION:

Briefly describe the primary method used to determine the need for this course. For example, Labor Market Predictions from Employment Development Department, employer survey, community or student interest survey, state licensing, requirements or mandated certification.

According to the 2013 Student Success Scorecard, LACCD colleges account for five of the top ten colleges having the highest proportion of unprepared students statewide. Overall, 85% of students within LACCD are unprepared. Additionally, the Scorecard showed that the completion rate for unprepared LACCD students is lower (36%) than the statewide average (41%), indicating local gaps in remediating unprepared students. Scorecard data also supports two themes: 1) completion of basic skills courses is directly related to student success; and 2) colleges with higher rates of Remedial Progress in English and Math also have high completion rates for unprepared students. After an examination of the relationship between underprepared students' progress and completion rates, and the offering of core remedial services in LACCD, it appears that LACCD's provision of core services to unprepared students, particularly basic skills sections at lower class levels, is lagging behind student need.

15. THIS COURSE WILL BE AN APPROVED REQUIREMENT FOR AN APPROVED ASSOCIATE DEGREE OR CERTIFICATE PROGRAM: No

Definitions

An online course never requires a meeting on campus but does require instructor initiated regular and substantive interaction with the students, either synchronously or asynchronously. These courses are conducted entirely over the internet where course materials are posted on a course website.

A hybrid course combines online learning with scheduled face-to-face class sessions on campus with the instructor. The campus sessions meet at the scheduled days, times, and defined location as indicated in the schedule of classes.

A correspondence course provides instructional materials by mail or electronic transmission, including examinations and materials. Interaction between the instructor and the students is limited, is not regular and substantive, and is primarily initiated by the student. These courses are usually self-paced.
