4. WRITING ASSIGNMENTS:
Title 5, section 55002 requires grades to be "based on demonstrated proficiency in subject matter and the ability to demonstrate that proficiency, at least in part, by means of essays or, in courses where the curriculum committee deems them to be appropriate, by problem solving exercises or skills demonstrations by students." Writing assignments in this course may include, but are not limited to the following:

Students will write essay examinations in class that analyze cause and effect of major events in Mexican American History. Identification questions on exams, study questions and map analysis will be required. Reasoning, clarity, the ability to draw conclusions and form judgments from historical events are elements required for inclusion in the essays and exercises.

5. REPRESENTATIVE OUTSIDE ASSIGNMENTS:
Out of class assignments may include, but are not limited to the following:

Students will complete a term paper or papers with an aggregate length of ten (10) to fifteen (15) pages. Assignments may include but not be limited to book review(s), biographical studies and research papers on significant historical events.

Students will look at all of the material (including the textbook) with a critical eye. Does the account presented, for example, gloss events to present a protagonist in a favorable light? When doing research on an event, e.g., Manifest Destiny or The Civil Rights Movement, students will evaluate the event in terms of the beneficiaries, the consequences for individuals and specific groups (women, the poor, and the wealthy) and short and long term impact.
Similarly when doing research on individuals students will identify potential motives, personal benefits and negative consequences that result from specific actions.

Liberal Arts and Sciences

Note: A course’s Classification, TOP Code and SAM code must be aligned – e.g., Courses with an “Occupational” Course Classification must have an “Occupational” TOP Code and a SAM Code of A, B, C, or D; courses that do not have an “Occupational” Course Classification cannot have an Occupational TOP Code and must have an “E” SAM Code.

17. SAM CODE (Student Accountability Model)

E – Non-Occupational

SAM Codes (see CCC Chancellor’s Office Student Accountability Model Operations Manual, 1984) should be assigned as follows:

Priority “A” – Apprenticeship: Courses designed for an indentured apprentice must have the approval of the State of California, Department of Industrial Relations Department, Division of Apprenticeship Standards.

Priority “B” – Advanced Occupational: Courses taken by students in the advanced stages of their occupational programs. Courses should be offered in one specific occupational area only. Priority letter “B” should be assigned sparingly; in most cases, no more than two courses in any one program should be labeled “B.” “B”-level courses must have Priority “C” prerequisites in the same program area.

Priority “C” – Clearly Occupational: Courses generally taken by students in the middle stages of their programs should have a difficulty level sufficient to detract “drop-ins.” Courses may be offered in several occupational programs within a broad area. The “C” priority, however, should also be used for courses within a specific program area when the criteria for “B” classification are not met. A “C”-level course should provide the student with entry-level job skills.

Priority “D” -- Possibly Occupational: "D" courses are those taken by students in the beginning stages of their occupational programs. The “D” priority can also be used for service (or survey) courses for other occupational programs.

Priority “E” -- Non-occupational.
